

Photos from the Fall 2010 MCCB Conference, hosted by Northwestern Michigan College in Traverse City

Saturday events, October 23, 2010

Lynnda Skidmore was up early and took this Saturday morning photo at the Great Lakes Campus

The Great Lakes Campus of Northwestern Michigan College. The MCCB Saturday events were held here in the Hagerty Center, which houses the Maritime Academy, The Water Studies Institute and the Culinary School.

Lobby of the Hagerty Center, on the Great Lakes Campus of NMC
://www.nmc.edu/resources/hagerty-center/index.html

Registration for the Saturday morning arrivals

Fine craftsmanship on display

Morning view of Grand Traverse Bay from the dining room

More great food - a hot breakfast buffet sponsored by Wiley Publishing

Dr. Hans VanSumeram, Director of NMC's Great Lakes Water Studies Institute. Dr. VanSumeram gave the opening Saturday talk on the mapping of Grand Traverse Bay.

Maritime Academy's teaching vessel at dock

Michael Benz chats with NMC conference organizer Keith Overbaugh

://www.benzmicroscope.com

The Pearson Publishing vendors displayed current textbooks & lab manuals

Barb DeVore, Managing Editor for Hayden-McNeil

Dr. Constanza Hazelwood - Education and Outreach Coordinator of NMC's Water Studies Institute. Dr. Hazelwood discussed the formation of the Institute and the current plans for creating international partnerships in water studies.

For further information and photographs of the Great Lakes Water Studies Institute, visit their website at ://www.nmc.edu/resources/water-studies/

Dr. Nicholas Johnson - research ecologist with the USGS, Hammond Bay Biological Station

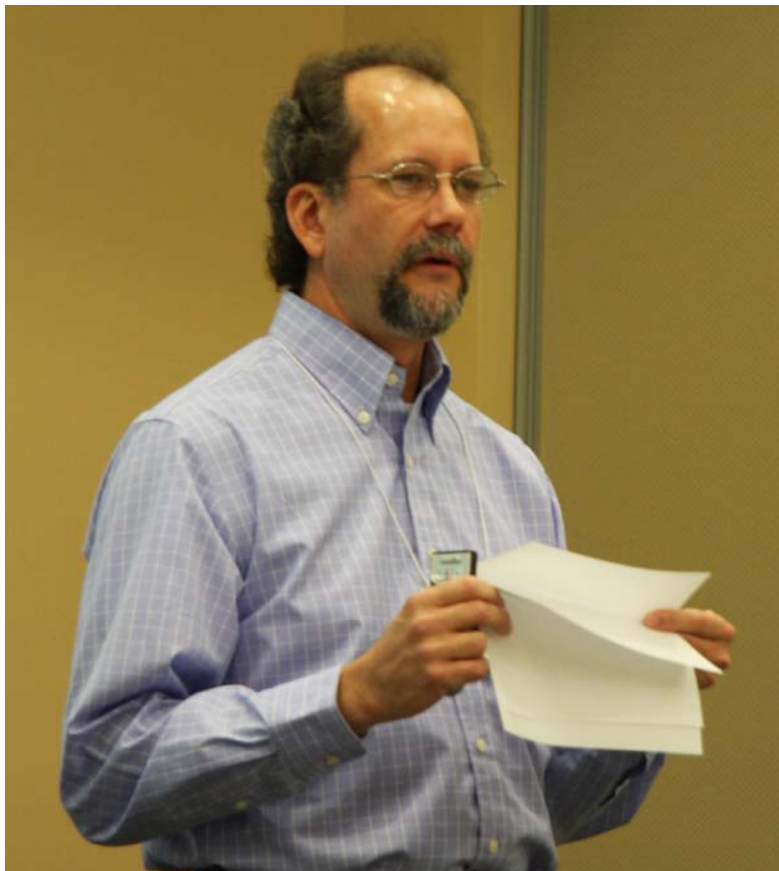

Dr. J. explaining his stream studies on the effects of Sea Lamprey sex pheromones

New members of MCCB joined us at the conference

Left to right: Traci Goldsworthy (Mid Michigan), Matt Badtke (Jackson), Kelsey Pressler (UM-Ann Arbor), Tim Periard (Lansing), Keron Greene (Lansing), Linda Chamberlain (Lansing), Anne Clayton (Lansing) and Betsy Brantley (Lansing)

Dr. D. J. West (Schoolcraft) discussing Active Learning Strategies

A great meeting at a great venue. Thank you NMC organizers!